Rumors of a new Richmond in the congressional race having reached the cars of a Gazatte reporter in connection with Mr. C. B. Randell, the talented county attorney, that gentieron was sought out and asked the direct question, if he was an aspirant for Throckmorton's seat. A decided answer in the negative was given. The reporter was rominded that Grayson county already had a candidate for congress in the person of Judge Silas Hare, and that this gentieman would not be opposed by him.

This straightforward denial certainly takes Mr. Randell out of the list of candidates for congress, at least for the ensuing race, yet that there more worthily represent it at Austin, if he could be preveiled on to run.

The candidacy of Hon. W. O. Davis of Gainestille for congress is favorably considered here and many predict his election. He is regarded as one of the foremost men in North Texas, and fully competent to serve the district in the cand be is very apt to be? Mr. Davis would not allow any petty jealonsy or local influence to restrain him from serving the whole district faithfully and well. His chances to the coming contest are very bright.

Newspaper Men Witnessen WASHINGTON, June 19.-Several news paper correspondents were examined under oath this morning by the senate committee on public lands in respect to their interviews with R. C. Dement, surveyor-general of Utah, whose nomination is pending before the committee. The interviews contained, with other things, charges that the Mormons bad a lobby in Washington spending money to influence legislation by congress. That a certain senator had been influenced in his action upon a public measure by the payment of a large sum of money. The material sensational feature of the interview was denied by Mr. Dement at an examination made by the committee last February, but the newspaper men told the committee that the uttarances imputed to Mr. Dement were setually made by him. At this exambation the witness was not placed upon oath, but since the present inquiry has begun by order of the senate Mr. Dement has sent a sworn statement to the committee reiterating his denial. The newspapers this moreing reported their statements and gave additional corroborative information. They gave the names of several other gentlemen to whom Mr. Dement, it is said, has made his sensational statement, some of whom will be subpressed by the commillee.
